

Duncaster's Popular "Antiques Showcase" Has Only a Few Spots July 29 Event Seeks to Uncover Hidden Treasures

BLOOMFIELD, CT., July 23, 2010 – With only days left, some spots are still open for treasure hunters to find out the true worth of items at the Duncaster Antique Showcase. Back by popular demand, the event will be held this year on Thursday, July 29 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Professional antique appraisers from Central Antiques will come to the community's Bloomfield campus to look over those treasures and tell participants about their worth. Duncaster is located at 40 Loeffler Road, Bloomfield.

Jamie Selig, owner of Central Antiques in Windsor has been appraising antiques for over 12 years. He will appraise the items, giving participants a look into their history and possible worth.

"Last year and this year the spots have filled up so quickly. It's a good idea if people want to come, that they call early," says Duncaster's Director of Marketing Patty Roohr.

The event is free and open to anyone in the community but only a few reservations remain. Evaluations are by appointment only. To make yours today, contact Fran at Duncaster at fkent@duncaster.org or (860) 380-5006 by July 26. Valet parking, refreshments and assistance will be available.

About Duncaster

Duncaster is Bloomfield's signature retirement community. Celebrating 25 years, this campus of 190 independent residences, assisted living and Duncaster's Caleb Hitchcock Health Center is designed to help residents live life to the fullest by providing security and fulfillment. The community includes an aquatic and fitness center and an on-site health clinic. Residents can participate in ongoing education, social and cultural programs. For more information, see www.duncaster.org or call (860) 380-5005.

Media contact

Andrea Obston aobston@aomc.com
(860) 243-1447 or (860) 803-1155 (cell)
(860) 653-2712 (home)