

Unobtainable Love of the Poet Yeats Featured at “Tuesdays with Duncaster” May 18

BLOOMFIELD, CT, Apr. 9, 2010 – The subject of unrequited love and the poet William Butler Yeats' obsession with it will be the topic of “Tuesdays with Duncaster” on Tuesday, May 18 at 5:30 p.m. This program is presented by the Bloomfield-based retirement community in association with the University of Hartford's Fellows of the President's College. The session will be held at Duncaster, 40 Loeffler Road, Bloomfield and is open to all.

“Yeats in Love” will be presented by Dean Joseph Voelker of the University of Hartford's School of Arts & Sciences. He will lead a discussion about the poet William Butler Yeats and Maude Gonne, his muse and unobtainable beloved. Some of the finest love poems in the English language came from this unrequited love. The session will trace the historic circumstances behind these poems, and feature readings from them that will tease out their passion and complexity.

Attendance is open to all and pre-registration is required. Tickets are $20 per session for Duncaster residents and Fellows of the University of Hartford and $30 per session for others. To register or for more information, contact Fran Kent at Duncaster, (860) 380-5006 or fkent@duncaster.org.

About Duncaster

Duncaster is Bloomfield's signature retirement community. Celebrating 25 years, this campus of 190 independent residences, assisted living and Duncaster's Caleb Hitchcock Health Center is designed to help residents live life to the fullest by providing security and fulfillment. The community includes an aquatic and fitness center and an on-site health clinic. Residents can participate in ongoing education, social and cultural programs. For more information, see www.duncaster.org or call (860) 380-5005.

Media contact:

Andrea Obston aobston@aomc.com
(860) 243-1447 (office) (860) 803-1155 (cell)
(860) 653-27612 (home)